Weekly Reflection: 7th Sunday in Ordinary Time – Year C

“Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you”

When was the last time a person has hurt you? And what did you do?

While the world dictates that we must at least get even with those people who hurt us, the ways of the Lord in the Gospel certainly tell us differently. In fact, it precisely admonishes us to do exactly the opposite – “Love your enemies and do good to those who hate you.” It seems, the Lord is asking his disciples including us as well, to do what is humanly impossible. How indeed can we love our enemies? Well, we just must learn the way of forgiveness, which is a grace that comes from God.

God is love, and, therefore, God is a forgiving God. The whole history of man’s salvation is one of loving forgiveness. It is about forgiveness of sin and providing us with the opportunity to enter a true loving relationship with God. And the best way to experience the forgiveness of God is by allowing us to be a channel of forgiveness to others. Did not Jesus taught us to pray: “Forgive us our sins as we forgive those who sin against us”. Then, let’s do it!
