5th Sunday of Lent – 2021- B

“Unless the grain of wheat falls to the earth and dies,...”

Many people are afraid of talking about death and dying. But not Jesus. And today we hear this spoken with outmost sincerity as he said: , ”Unless the grain of wheat falls to the earth and dies, it remains alone; but if it dies, it produces much fruit”. And nobody can be more clarified to do so than Jesus because He lived it himself and invites us to do likewise.

And we are afraid of death because we see it as robbing us of our lives. We live our lives thinking what we can get out of it. But to truly live life is not about what we can get but how we can give as to become a life-giving presence to others.

And Lent is an opportunity to practice to give life to others by our readiness to sacrifice our own self-fulfillment and be self-transcending. And we can begin through acts of mortifications which are little acts of dying to self. These are acts of self-denial in view of becoming a channel of life and love the world.

Effective Easter Sunday, April 4 (or as of the Easter Vigil, April 3), Bishop Silva will be ENDING the dispensation from the obligation to attend Sunday Mass. However, anyone who is sick, may have been exposed to anyone with COVID-19, or who has a health condition that would endanger themselves or others by being present in church, continues to be dispensed.

This means that individual pastors & deacons within a parish will work to better accommodate the needs of their own parishes while following all the authorities of the state government & island county leadership. St. Joseph Church has not made any changes regarding our seating structure for Masses or seating request process at this time. Social gatherings are not permitted, and meetings held at the parish remain limited to no more than ten individuals. All health protocols remain in effect and must be observed.
